TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

For Weakness, Indigestion, Lack of Energy, etc., IT HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only Iron medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, and is a perfect Tonic. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other from medicines do. DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says: Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it.

DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

THE BURLINGTON STRIKE

SAID TO HAVE BEEN INSTIGATED BY THE ROAD'S OFFICERS

With a View to Compel the Formation of a Trust—The Brotherhood Will Continue the Strike on Its Present Lines—A Conclusive Meeting Rumor—Notes.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific filed its answer in court, Saturday, to the Burlington's petition that the Rock Island be compelled to handle Burlington cars. The defendant states that it competes at many points with the Burlington and other western systems, and that in January last the Burlington began to cut rates, depleting its own treasury as well as those of its rivals, and declaring that the cutting of rates would continue until the officers of all the railways involved in the disastrous result of its policy should consent to abdicate the powers placed in their hands by the stockholders they represented—not to the stockholders, but to what is generally denominated a "trust," which should be managed by three men, who should be vested with the exclusive and absolute power to make and alter the rates which should be charged for transportation of persons and property over the road concerned, each company to guarantee faithful obedience to the orders of the trust by depositing large sums of money, which should be subject to the control of the trust in paying fines assessed for disobedience, etc.; that the officers declined to submit to this demand because they regarded such action as inconsistent with the duties which they owed the stockholders of the companies which they represented, and as involving a violation of the laws of the United States and of the state in which their railways were situated.

In order to coerce the other roads into this arrangement, the Burlington officials fostered the strike of its engineers and firemen, having first arranged to secure all the surplus engineers in the United States not belonging to the Brotherhood, with the intention of finally spreading the strike to rival roads by compelling them to haul Burlington cars when it was known that such interchange would result in strikes and paralyze such competitors until they consented to enter the "trust."

The Rock Island also states that, knowing the purposes of its rival, it refused to handle Burlington cars until an agreement was made with its engineers to that effect.

Galesburg Switchmen.

GALESBURG, Ills., March 27.—A committee of the striking switchmen waited on Superintendent Rice yesterday afternoon but it cannot be learned that anything came of it. The switchmen are very reticent. No freight trains were handled here yesterday and the striking engine men are confident that the switchmen will stand firm. Officers here say that they can easily fill the places of the switchmen.

The yard master of the Burlington here, William O'Shea, frankly admits that there is some justness in the chief complaint of the striking switchmen that switch engines here are manned in some instances by incompetent men and that the switchmen are therefore in greater danger than before. He says, however, that it is the intention of the officials as soon as circumstances permit to put on their engines thoroughly competent men. The switchmen have also been assured of this.

Grievance Committee Delegates.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Delegates from the local switchmen and brakemen's unions on all the divisions of the Burlington road are arriving in Chicago, and by night all the grievance committees will be represented. To-morrow there will be a meeting participated in by the grievance committees of the engineers, firemen, switchmen and brakemen on the Burlington system. This meeting will decide on a definite plan of action.

One of the delegates who arrived Sunday afternoon from Denver said to a reporter that the brakemen would certainly be drawn into the strike. The western brakemen have several grievances to bring before the meeting. The principle one is that they are in constant danger of accident with the incompetent engineers. The delegate referred to said that under no circumstances would the brakemen consent to do switching for the company in place of the strikers.

Cincinnati Shoemakers.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—The strike in the Cincinnati shoe factories is over, but the troubles are by no means at an end. The old employees applied for work at their respective factories, but a small proportion were accepted. Especially was this the case at Blacker's shop, where sixty applied up to 8 o'clock, but only six were allowed to work.

Seventy-five shoemakers applied at Stribbley's factory and only three lasters were given work.

About two hundred applied at Krippendorf's and only twenty-five were given work. This firm claims to have 150 new girls at work.

The following question was put to the old employees, who applied for work, by the manufacturers: "Will you strike if ordered?" Those who gave an affirmative or evasive answer were refused work again by their old bosses.

Rumors of a Meeting for Consultation.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—It is rumored that Chief Arthur is calling prominent engineers and firemen from all parts of the country to Chicago for consultation regarding the situation. It is said that this conference will probably be held very soon. It is also said that delegates from Texas have been passing through this city for two days, and that all the roads in the territory southwest of St. Louis will be represented. It is known that two or three men high in the ranks of firemen and switchmen left East St. Louis Friday night for Chicago and two prominent engineers went from Aurora.

The Way of the Polygamist is Hard.

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 27.—In the first district court, at Provo, Saturday, sixteen Mormons were sentenced for living with more than one wife, contrary to the provisions of the Edmunds law. The most of them were given six months in the penitentiary and fined $300.

JAMES DONALD CAMERON.

A Close Friend Says He is a Candidate for Presidential Nomination.

JAMES DONALD CAMERON.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., March 27.—The most important political event in this city during the past week, has been an effort to consolidate the owners of the various large manufacturing establishments upon a candidate for president of the United States. Whether Mr. Blaine permits his name to be brought before the Chicago convention or not he is certain to find a formidable in Hon. J. Donald Cameron.

William J. Pollock, formerly internal revenue collector for the First district, and one of the closest friends Mr. Cameron has in this city, admits that the senator is a candidate, but he claims to have had no communication with him upon the subject for some months. Mr. Pollock says:

"I am perfectly convinced that Mr. Cameron is a candidate for the presidency, but I am sure that he will not exercise his personal power to secure his own nomination. He is entirely in the hands of his friends, and there is no question in my mind, when his candidacy shall be formally announced, but that he will get the Pennsylvania delegation solid."

As to the second name on the ticket, there is some division of opinion, but by far the strongest sentiment in favor of Robert Lincoln. It is claimed that destiny has made the name of Lincoln formidable in National affairs and that Mr. Lincoln could call to his support and the aid of the ticket upon which he would be named greater strength than any other individual.

CHIEF JUSTICE WAITE'S FUNERAL.

Public Obsequies in Washington Wednesday—Funeral at Toledo.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Mrs. M. R. Waite has telegraphed that she is en route from California via the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road; and will arrive in Toledo either Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. She has agreed that the funeral of the late chief justice may take place in the hall of the house of representatives next Wednesday noon. The obsequies will be in accordance with the Episcopal liturgy, and will be conducted by Bishop Paret and Drs. Leonard, Bodine and Mott.

The remains will be taken to Toledo for interment, and will there be met by Mrs. Waite. The ceremonies at Toledo will be such as are fitting at the burial of a private citizen at his home, and will be conducted at Trinity church by Rev. Dr. Wallbridge.

Confessed Implicating His Father.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 27.—Charles F. Stain made a confession yesterday implicating his father and Oliver Cromwell in the Messenger murder committed at Norfolk, Mass. It was planned, he says, by Rufus Goldsmith, Cromwell and his father at the latter's house in the fall of 1875. Messenger was known to have some money in the house and his murderers tortured him in the vain attempt to make him tell where he had it hidden. They left him tied to a bedpost, in which condition he was found dead next morning. Young Stain says his father and the others found $1,800 in the house.

An Editor Suicides.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—Charles J. Wilson, aged twenty-five, editor of the Twin Valley Times, West Alexandria, O., shot himself early Saturday morning at the Crawford house, this city. He had arrived there the night before, and as he did not appear Saturday, investigation was made about 7 o'clock Saturday evening, and he was found lying on the floor with a pistol shot through his right temple. He had been suffering from consumption, and this is supposed to be the cause of the suicide. He had $3 in money on his person. The news of his rash deed created a great shock at his home.

Burglars in Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 27.—The shoe stores of James Crawford and L. B. Cahill, on Third street, between Main and Broadway, were burglarized last night, and, as nearly as can be ascertained, $100 worth of fine shoes carried off. Efforts to open the safes in each place were not successful. Entrance was gained by prying open rear window shutters and cutting out large panes of glass. No clew to the burglars.

The Strike Will Be Continued.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Chief Arthur said Sunday that the strike of the Brotherhood would continue on its present lines. They are satisfied with the way things are going, and don't want any road tied up for their sake or the strike to extend. If they are beaten by the Burlington, all right; they have done what they could to vindicate themselves and there will be nothing more to do.

Senator Sawyer's Gold Mine.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Tribune's Washington special says that Senator Sawyer has closed his bargain for the gold mine recently discovered about fifteen miles from Washington, and is preparing to start a town around his property. He has taken out with crude machinery about eight hundred pennyweights of refined gold thus far. Hoosier Daily Goes Under.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 27.—The Laporte Daily Public Spirit, published by Gen. Jasper Packard, suspended with the issue of Saturday, as it was not self-sustaining. This is Packard's second attempt and failure to establish a daily paper in this city.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

THE EFFECT MR. GOSCHEN'S CONVERSION BILL WILL HAVE.

Our Trouble in Morocco—Daniel Wilson Acquitted by the French Court of Appeals—The Floods in Austria—The Late Emperor's Will—A Fatal Duel.

LONDON, March 27.—Mr. Goschen's conversion bill will undoubtedly become a law with the ultimate effect of greatly weakening the Conservative party. Already the small investors have taken the alarm, but their protests though energetic are uncoordinated and the lack of organization will render their opposition of little avail. To thousands of persons whose sole income is the interest in the consolidated annuities, the loss of simply one-half of 1 per cent. will be a serious matter.

In no other country of the world are there so many genteel poor who feel themselves compelled to preserve a respectable appearance and to this class the smallest deduction from their usual receipts means a fall from their former standard of comfort to comparative poverty.

It is safe to say that these small annuities are universally Tories in principle, reduced gentlemen or women in many cases relatives of the wealthy Tories whose purse string may have to be drawn in their behalf and the government will earn thousands of enemies by the passage of the measure perhaps enough in the large cities to turn several closely contested elections.

One of the most objectionable features to the people interested, is the payment of a premium large in the aggregate, to the bankers and brokers, who act as the intermediaries in the conversion of the stock. Though this would seem to be necessary, yet the idea of putting their hands in their own pockets and paying the unpopular financiers for depleting their contents of the said pockets is exasperating in the extreme.

The average investor in England is pretty much at the mercy of his financial advisor. The latter prejudices him against every sort of United States investment, although the money lost in South American securities, mines, tramways, shares, Quano Islands and similar speculations amounts to many a million of pounds and the sums loaned to such bankrupt governments as Turkey, Spain and Portugal are almost incalculable. The timid widow or the half-pay officer therefore prefers the low interest of the consols to the doubtful security of other investments.

There is a limit, however, to caution, and Mr. Goschen's saving of interest may result in creating a mania for rush speculations, to be followed by an inevitable panic and the consequent ousting of the Tories from power. Rumors at first charged Mr. Gladstone with supporting the chancellor's scheme, and if the ex-premier had held his peace and permitted the Conservatives to walk blindly into their own trap he could hardly have been blamed, but to the relief of his friends he has placed himself in opposition to the measure, his apparent hesitation merely proving that with him principle is more powerful than mere party advantages.

We Want Our Rights Respected.

TANGIER, March 27.—The pasha on Saturday held an interview with his foreign minister, and as a result his dragoon made a proposition to Consul Lewis to release the imprisoned protégés of the United States and make an amende honorable, providing the United States of America will consent to an abrogation of treaties so far as the protege system is concerned, the pasha giving in exchange the guarantee that American citizens shall be secured in their commercial and personal rights.

The proposition was not acceptable to Consul Lewis, who demands an unconditional release of the prisoners, and that they be indemnified for their unjust detention.

Without some special authority guaranteed by treaty to the representatives of foreign nations in Morocco, Spain alone, by reason of her military possessions on the coast, would monopolize trade of the country.

Terrible Floods.

BERLIN, March 27.—Low lying districts along the banks of the rivers Elbe and Vistula are inundated. The village of Dornitz is isolated in the midst of a great lake. A number of soldiers from the nearest garrison, after arduous efforts, succeeded in reaching there with a supply of food for the inhabitants, but fifteen were drowned in the attempt. Further attempts to relieve numerous villages in a similar position are being made. The floods, it is estimated, cover two hundred square miles of territory, and alarming rumors of the extent of damage done are circulated.

Emperor Frederick is deeply concerned at the distress and damage caused by the floods in various parts of Germany, and has ordered his ministers to take all needful steps for the relief

TUESDAY EVE., MARCH 27, 1888.

HON. THOMAS PAYNTER will be praying for some one to save him from his overzealous friends.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND can not be truthfully accused of putting his friends and relatives in office. His administration has been remarkably pure in this as in all other respects.

THE earnings of the Kentucky Central Railroad for the month of February show an increase of $5,776 over those of the corresponding week of last year. The figures are: 1888, $70,008; 1887, $64,232; increase, $5,776.

A PROHIBITION convention at Harrodsburg Saturday nominated Rev. Green Clay Smith for Congress in that district—the Eighth. Delegates were selected to the national convention. Professor J. B. Jones, of Anderson County, and Mrs. Lulu Nield were chosen electors for the State at large.

THE last issue of the Maysville Democrat leads us to believe that there is some thing wrong in the editor's upper story. This part of the editor's anatomy is certainly in a dilapidated condition, and if some repairing is not done immediately, we look for the entire editorial structure to cave in by the time the Democrat reaches its next issue.—Dover News, March 25th.

Don't be too hard on our young neighbor. It may be the "bold and fearless writer" of the Democrat, whose upper story is in such a dilapidated condition.

We have been trusting that the coming congressional fight would be allowed to shape itself, so far as the Democrats are concerned. If the papers will only keep quiet and allow the party to meet in convention and unite on some good man for the nominee, there will be some chance to elect him. The candidates cannot afford to get into a wrangle over the nomination. If the nominee can secure the full party vote of the district he will win, and the only way to do that is not to make any fuss over the nomination.

THE Republican primary election at Manchester Saturday resulted in the nomination of the following ticket: Corporation—Mayor, Dudley B. Phillips; Marshal, Richard Harris; Councilmen for two years, R. H. Ellison, John Trent and H. R. Carroll; Clerk, W. H. Cooley; Treasurer, A. J. McIntire; Wharfmaster, W. H. Pownall; Cemetery Trustees, J. T. McCutcheon, V. J. N. Kirker and S. J. Trenary; School Directors, A. J. McIntire and R. H. Carroll. Township ticket—Trustee, O. Ashenhurst; Treasurer, A. J. McIntire; Constable, Richard Harris; Assessor, T. C. Bowman. The Democrats are alive and wide awake, and will hold their primary this week.

Our Neighbor's Bad Argument.

Furthermore, if Mr. Rardin did not know when he would be qualified to hold a seat in that body he would be a poor man to put any dependence in when it comes to making laws for an enlightened people.—Democrat.

Some years ago when our present efficient County Clerk was first elected he found out he was not qualified for the place. He, like Mr. Rardin, had failed to comply with the law in one single respect. But according to our esteemed contemporary of Court street, Mr. Ball "was a poor man to put any dependence in." If the Democrat had had to settle the question it would have made Mr. Ball step aside and give the place to his opponent, although that opponent had not received as many votes. There would have been as much justice in such an act as there was in giving Callon the seat to which Rardin had been elected. However, the Returning Board did not do in that case as the Legislature has done in the Greenup case. The matter was referred back to the people at the next August election. The Returning Board had no right to disfranchise the majority of the voters of this county by giving Mr. Ball's opponent the office. What right had the Legislature to set at naught the will of the people of Greenup?

Had Mr. Ball's opponent, in the case referred to, been given the office, against the expressed will of the voters, these voters would not have been slow in resenting the insult and the injustice done them, and it remains to be seen how the voters of Greenup County will resent the unjust action of the Legislature in seating Callon.

Such cases as Callon's is doing the party more harm than good, and the sooner it is stopped the better for the Democracy.

It will not do for our young friend to fall back upon the action of the Legislature. Legislatures have been guilty of committing some of the most grievous wrongs ever inflicted upon the people.

At their Old Tricks.

During the last National campaign, the Republican cry was that the country would go to the "demimition bow-wows" if Cleveland was elected. They had used that cry for years, and no doubt it proved very effective with certain classes. It was too old a "chestnut," however, to do them much good four years ago. Cleveland was elected and what has been the result? Has any of the disasters happened that were predicted? Not much. The Philadelphia Telegram, Republican paper candidly acknowledges this. "Nothing whatever of the mischief which, it was declared, would be a sequence of Mr. Cleveland's election, has appeared," says the Telegram. "His administration has been singularly free from all sorts of political or official scandals; it has been so conservative as to command the respect of the country's great vested interests; instead of being the cause of mercantile depression, as it was said it would be, it has been the apparent cause of mercantile prosperity."

That is a candid admission, and the people know it to be true.

The Republicans, however, are at their old tricks again. They are predicting dire disasters to the manufacturing industries of this country if the Mills Tariff bill should become a law. The Mills bill is a Democratic measure, and this outcry against it on the part of the Republicans is simply one of their old tricks to scare the business men of this country in hopes of winning the votes of that class of our people. But it won't work. The Mills bill proposes to cut down the ruinous tariff adopted during the war and correct its many inequalities.

This is in line with the party platform on which the fight was made four years ago. Even the Republicans declared in their National convention in 1884 that these "inequalities" ought to be corrected, and their present outcry against a bill which proposes to make that correction shows how inconsistent they are on this great question.

It's an old trick of that party, but we are inclined to believe the people are on to the game and will not allow themselves to be deceived.

THE STATE'S LAW MAKERS.

Proceedings of the General Assembly—Measures of Local Interest—Notes.

The House has passed a bill requiring sales of property under order of court to be advertised in newspapers. Representatives Gooding and Walton voted against the measure, Representative Hillis for it. The bill establishing a whipping post for the punishment of wife-beaters passed the House by a vote of 45 to 33. Messrs. Gooding and Hillis voted for it.

Mr. Charlton offered a bill to amend Section 1, Article 2, of an act amendatory to the revenue laws, approved May 17, 1886. When the present law was framed a tax of $1.25 was proposed on bank stock. A powerful lobby put in an appearance and the result was a reduction to 75 cents. Mr. Charlton's bill proposes to increase the amount to $1.25, as primarily designed.

A bill is pending to suppress dealings in margins and futures. It provides that whoever shall keep, conduct or manage or aid or assist in keeping, conducting or managing any house-room or office or place wherein the buying or selling of bonds, grain, cotton, or other produce, property, commodity, article or thing whatever, is conducted or permitted for future delivery when either of the contracting parties, buyer or seller, dealing alone for the margin, or sum deposited, on the prospective rise or fall in price of the thing sold and where neither of the parties contracting intended in fact to make actual dealing in the thing speculated in, or to receive the sum in specie, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and on conviction shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one or more than two years.

Thirty-four new bills were introduced in the House last Friday.

Messrs. Scott, Richardson, Gooding and Blandford were appointed a committee Saturday to investigate the Institute for the Feeble-Minded.

A bill has been introduced to make the Auditor of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Register of the Land Office, Public Printer and Librarian eligible for a third term. The bill will no doubt be passed, as it ought to be.

A bill is pending, and will undoubtedly pass, to prohibit the advertising of any and all lotteries. The present law applies only to lotteries in this State.

A resolution was adopted requiring the Auditor to report:

"First—Whether any State official, or whether any district official, whose salaries are paid by the State, have at any time during their terms of office overdrawn their salaries from the State Treasury, and the names of such officials, the amount overdrawn, and the date when so drawn.

"Second—Whether James W. Tate, Treasurer of this State, has paid or loaned to any other person money without a warrant therefor issued by the Auditor, that may have been taken from the funds belonging to the treasury of the State, and the evidences of such transactions, the names of such persons, together with the date of such transactions and the amount of money obtained by such persons."

The crusher is reported a total wreck, the damages being estimated at $3,000.

The engine was a forty-horse power.

The hands had quit work, and had the blast been made an hour earlier several of them would probably have been killed, as they usually took shelter under the crusher platform.

The railroad authorities have summoned the man who was in charge of

A BIG TIME AMONG ODDFELLOWS.

The Oddfellows of this city had a big time last night. There was work in the Golden Rule and Royal Purple degrees in Pisgah Encampment. The programme was duly announced a few days ago, and Patriarchs were on hand in large numbers from this city, Aberdeen, Manchester and Flemingsburg. The large hall was crowded. His "goatship" was in fine trim, and furnished no end of amusement for the audience by his antics. However, Dr. H. K. Adamson, Mr. Albert N. Huff and the editor of the BULLETIN can claim some credit for the entertainment of the evening, and are entitled to some of the honors.

The work was carried out in an artistic manner by Messrs. Thomas A. Davis, C. P.; Byron Rudy, H. P.; A. M. J. Cochran and W. H. Cox, G.; Harry Taylor, S. W., and Wm. Reeves and F. H. Traxel as J. W.

The work was completed at half-past 11 o'clock. The members then adjourned to Heiser's Hotel, where a banquet consisting of the substantial of life was served. About sixty persons were present at the banquet and enjoyed the good things spread before them.

The Manchester Patriarchs returned home on the Boston. The list comprised the following: Rev. J. S. Whitney, Dr. J. W. Guthrie, R. H. Ellison, Wm. Charles, H. N. Edgington, S. P. Tucker, J. B. Duzan, Jno. J. Parker, J. P. Hundley, C. W. Galbraith, Walter Drenan, J. Q. Bradford, Henry Herndon, W. G. Frow, A. B. Scott and J. A. Perry, editor of the Signal.

The following were present from Flemingsburg: E. H. Kenner, E. D. Andrews, J. N. Faulkner, J. A. Allen, J. E. Jacobs and Jesse W. Lee.

The names of our neighbors over the river were not obtained.

Pisgah is enjoying a big boom.

DAKOTANS DREADING THE MISSOURI'S OVERFLOW.

Settlers Along the River From Bismarck to Sioux City Anxiously Watching the Situation—Blizzards Damage Crops and Fruits at Various Points.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, March 27.—The situation on the river here is practically unchanged. The weather again turned cold Saturday night, and three inches of snow has since fallen. The gorge opposite the city has been augmented. The gorge five miles above and opposite the mouth of the Sioux river, as well as the one  $\frac{1}{2}$  miles above, opposite Jackson, Neb., still hold.

This makes the situation serious, because a flood is pouring down the river still further up. The present conditions are almost identical with those preceding the great flood of 1883. The snow lies deep all along the Missouri valley and on the prairies draining into it. There is a series of gorges in the river from here to seventy-five or one hundred miles above here, while the upper Missouri and its confluents have broken up and are flooding. If the weather turns warm disastrous floods must ensue. A great amount of property is exposed here, and there is intense anxiety, not only at this point, but throughout the low lands along the river.

The Situation at Yankton.

YANKTON, Dak., March 27.—The great rise in the Missouri river has not reached here yet, but is hourly expected. The river is clear of ice, a gorge having formed fifty miles north. Six inches of snow fell yesterday, and the weather continues cold. This will hold the ice gorges till the rush of water from the north reaches them, and settlers along the river, from Bismarck to Sioux City, are watching the situation anxiously, and will move at the first indication of an overflow. The situation on the upper river is identical with the spring of 1881, when the Missouri river overflowed its banks for miles, destroying life and property of great value.

Northern Illinois and Iowa.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Dispatches from many points in northern Illinois and Iowa report the prevalence yesterday of a severe sleet storm. Everything is covered with ice and in many places large limbs have broken from trees under the weight. Great damage to wheat and fruit is feared.

Fruit and Crops in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 27.—The storm that was general over Nebraska Sunday was of unusual severity, the fruit trees and young shrubbery being heavily loaded with ice and sleet. Winter grains are undoubtedly injured and the outlook for fruit in this state is poor.

In Northern Indiana.

WABASH, Ind., March 27.—A blizzard swept through the Wabash valley Sunday. A leading agriculturist stated that wheat is to all appearances killed completely in this section. Corn planting will be delayed for weeks.

THE DEAD VENEZUELAN PATRIOT.

A Short Sketch of the Life of the Late General Jose Antonio Paez.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Saturday the body of Gen. Jose Antonio Paez, the Venezuelan patriot, was taken from Marble cemetery to the United States frigate Pensacola with great honor and ceremony, and will be taken to his native land.

His is one of the remarkable characters of history. He was born in 1790 and was brought up a cowboy among the herdsmen of the plains. When eighteen he became the overseer of the cattle estates of a wealthy Spaniard, and at twenty enlisted in the patriotic struggle of his country and soon rose to high rank. He defeated Gen. Lopez, the Spaniard, was made commander of the revolutionary forces and soon enforced the authority of Bolivar, and Venezuela and New Granada were united as Columbia. Paez became a senator and president twice and refused a third term.

Through his influence Jose T. Monagas was made president, but tried to overthrow the republic and Paez led the revolutionists against him. Paez was captured and loaded with chains by his former protege, imprisoned and finally banished perpetually. He came to New York where he resided until 1858, when his banishment was revoked. He returned to Venezuela, but was driven back to New York by petty jealousies. He was recalled to Venezuela again, however, and was made dictator, which position he held until 1862, when he returned to New York never to return until now.

His career in his native country was one of almost continual warfare. By the honorable return of his remains Venezuela does tardy justice to the man who spent his life in her service.

Many were the recognitions of his greatness which Paez received in his lifetime. William IV of England presented him with a beautiful sword; Louis Philippe, king of the French, decorated him with the Legion of Honor; Oscar, king of Sweden, gave him the grand cross of the Military Order of the Sword, and the congress of his own country presented him with a golden sword, and conferred upon him the title of "Illustrous Citizen."

LARD ADULTERATION.

Kansas City Packers Incensed at Certain Charges Made by Mr. Bartle.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 27.—Jacob Dold, Jr., said yesterday that the testimony of W. G. Bartle before the senate committee investigating the lard question was a base lie, and that Mr. Bartle would make a retraction or suffer the consequences. There is not a packer in Kansas City, Mr. Dold says, who uses diseased hogs, and cholera-stricken or smothered hogs never reach the packing houses.

A State Chemist's Discoveries.

NEW YORK, March 27.—A Boston dispatch to the World says: State Chemist Sharpless, who has been in Washington investigating the adulteration of lard says the examination showed an alarming adulteration of lard by manufacturers. Dead hog grease, he says, was found to be used extensively in lard intended as human food.

NEW LEXINGTON, O., March 27.—George A. Granger, proprietor of the Bonanza flour mills at this place, was seriously injured by his left coat sleeve catching in the rapidly revolving cog wheels, which drew his arm between the teeth, tearing the flesh from the bone, dislocating the elbow and crushing his left side and breast to the extent that little hope is entertained of his recovery.

A STRANGE INFATUATION.

Miss Cora Fellows Said to Be Married to a Sioux Indian.

FORT SULLY, Dak., March 27.—The courier who carries dispatches between this point and Fort Bennett came in Sunday, and says there is no doubt that Miss Cora Fellows and the Sioux Indian Chaska, were married Friday night at 8 o'clock at Swift Bird's camp. Every preparation had been made, and there was nothing to prevent the ceremony. The courier says that Chaska, so far from being ill-favored and dirty, is a young Indian of intelligence and self-respect, and very bright. He is well liked, and for that reason the Indians made every preparation for a three-days' festivity.

The only reason the ceremony did not take place previously was that the arrangements for the rejoicings were not complete, and not because of the opposition of the young lady's father. As to the story that Miss Fellows' brother had come on here from Chicago for the express purpose of filling Chaska full of bullets, it now turns out that she has no brother. Miss Fellows, the courier says, appeared as happy as any young woman possibly could upon the eve of her wedding to the man of her choice.

Colonel Fellows Don't Believe it.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The later advices received from Pierre, Dak., report that the marriage of Miss Fellows, of Washington, to the Sioux Indian Chaska is near at hand; that the invitations have been issued, etc.; that the father of the bride and her two brothers are present awaiting the ceremonies, and that if the ceremony actually takes place, the brothers intend shooting Chaska. The author of the romantic stories appear to be rather reckless about his facts, as Col. Fellows is still in Washington, and when shown the dispatch, said: "In the first place, I am not there, as you see, Secondly, I have no son, and consequently Miss Fellows can not have two brothers with her, armed to the teeth, prepared to stop the wedding. Again, no white man is allowed on the Indian reservation, which is several hundred miles in extent, and therefore no ranchmen or cowboys could have been invited. Lastly, it is utterly impossible for any human being to get news from Swift Bird's camp to Pierre, owing to the condition of the Missouri river, which is choked with floating ice."

The last letter received by Mr. Fellows from his much advertised daughter contained a simple recital of her daily life. The only time the name of Chaska has been mentioned by Miss Fellows is in a letter to a friend in this city, in which she mentioned him as having been very kind to her. Members of the Fellows family refuse to believe that the young lady contemplates marriage.

Women's International Council.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The international council of women opened Sunday afternoon with religious services at Albaugh's Grand opera-house. The attendance was large. Rev. Ada C. Bowles, Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, Rev. Anna H. Shaw and Rev. Amanda Deyo officiated.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Indications—Fresh to brisk southerly winds; warmer, threatening weather and rain followed by colder westerly winds; conditions are favorable for severe local storms, with a cold wave.
